"the reinterpretation and representation of the relationship between the existing suburban centers and transit nodes can reinforce their sense of centrality and connectivity, thereby encouraging use of transit and channeling growth to the concentrations along the transit corridor ...."

- pooja singh